THE BLOOMFIELD CITIZEN.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 27, 1890.

The New Brunswick System.

New Brunswick is a thriving town in this State, located on the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad midway between Newark and Trenton. The town like our own possesses excellent facilities for carrying on manufacturing. To bring this fact prominently before the general public, a Board of Trade was organized and the advantages of the town widely advertised. The policy adopted has resulted in a boom for the city. Several industries have located there and the Board of Trade is in constant receipt of communications from other parties anxious to locate. The following statement from a newspaper will give some idea of the results of the movement:

"The C. C. Davis Cigar Manufacturing Company has located at Water and Washington streets and begun operations. Among the firms negotiating for locations in New Brunswick are the New York and Chicago Chemical Company, whose laboratory is at present in Hoboken, and the Meriden Britannia Ware Company, of Meriden, Conn., which is to be joined by a Newark manufacturer. These parties have $20,000 capital, and want $25,000 more from local capitalists, which can be had if, upon investigation, the enterprise proves reliable. A company organized with $600,000 capital, of which $150,000 is paid up, has had representatives in New Brunswick this week seeking a location for a plant to manufacture a recently invented typesetting machine. The parties have first-class recommendations and the enterprise looks promising. There are two idle plants in the city which could be converted to their use. The Standard Cash Register Company from Orange is in negotiation for a location, and yesterday the agent of a Fence Wire Company was seeking a location for his industry, and met with encouraging proposition."

THE CITIZEN recently suggested an organized movement among our business men for the purpose of advertising Bloomfield's advantages as an industrial location. We have since been informed that several of our leading citizens have had the project under advertisement. The possible benefits to the trade of the town are obvious. Our National Bank would [illegible] the medium for the transaction of the financial business of whatever new industry might locate here. Our Savings Bank would find its number of depositors increased from the ranks of the tribes. Our Building and Loan Associations would have a wider field to work in. Our merchants would enjoy an increase in their trade, resulting from the new influx to the population.

Houses.

Some men are born blind, some become blind, and others have sight but see not. The latter have indeed sight but neither insight nor foresight. Their want of insight is shown in their ignorance of what constitutes the desirable in a house. To them all houses are much alike provided they are built of wood, stone or brick. Houses to such men are merely a combination of certain materials and whether the combination takes the form of a castle or a hut, a substantial dwelling or a mere box, is a matter of little moment. Tastes differ, but there are some who violate all taste for they themselves are utterly without any. The possibility of erecting a house that combines taste with convenience is not apparent to their vision. Some sacrifice taste to convenience, while others dispense with convenience to obtain the tasteful. The one class cater too much to their own comfort, and the other class consult too much the opinion of others. The above statements have an application to the building that has been and is now being done in Bloomfield. A mansion cannot be built for a small sum of money, but many a mansion is ugly while a cheaper house may be made attractive. The fact seems to have been lost sight of in some instances here in town while in others it has received a most happy illustration.

Houses need not be of the Queen Anne type in order to be attractive, and in truth architects as well as laymen find it difficult or impossible to exactly mark the limits or to precisely define the features of the Queen Anne class. There is an eternal fitness of things and this should be manifest in the building of a house. A house should be adapted to the site on which it is to be built and the neighborhood in which it is to stand. A cheap and unattractive house on a fine and expensive site; and a large and handsome mansion on a small and undesirable lot are both displeasing to the sense of fitness of things. There are sites and houses in Bloomfield to which these statements apply. So much for the want of insight.

What however is more far-reaching in its results and more material in its effect, is the want of foresight in those who will erect houses that tend to depreciate the value of the surrounding property interests. A poor house built in the midst of far better ones is like a bad apple in a basket of good ones. Every man has the legal right to build the house he wishes, provided it is not a public nuisance, but in carrying out his wishes he may, consciously or not, be injuring the value of the property around him. If he builds with malicious intent to injure, his malice will in the end prove a boomerang; if on the contrary he is himself deceived as to the desirability of the house he is building, it goes to show the want of proper advice on the part of his advisor or his failure to ask for such advice. Architects too often build simply for the commission it brings them. This is a very short sighted as well as a very unpatriotic policy. The wild desire to speculate in real estate that seizes some often runs a riotous course and its pathway is strewn with buildings that show the folly of the builder and bring injury to the property owners in the vicinity. A street in our town is lined with houses that should never have been built. One party has left behind him monuments of brick which do not serve to keep his name in the grateful remembrance of the neighborhood. Let these be a warning to others. In the building of houses here two things are essential in order to make such houses what they ought to be in our town. There should be that insight that seeks the pleasing, and that foresight that regards the interests of others.

So confident are the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy in their ability to cure Chronic Catarrh in the Head, no matter how bad or of how long standing, that they offer in good faith, the above reward, for a case which they cannot cure.

SYMPTOMS OF CATARRH.

Headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody and putrid; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness, difficulty of clearing throat, expectoration of offensive matter; breath offensive; smell and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms likely to be present at once. Thousands of cases result in consumption, and end in the grave.

By its mild, soothing, antiseptic, cleansing and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Remedy cures the worst cases. "Cold in the Head" is cured with a few applications. Catarrhal Headache is relieved and cured as if by magic. It removes offensive breath, loss or impairment of the sense of taste, smell, or hearing, watering or weak eyes, and impaired memory, when caused by the violence of Catarrh, as they all frequently are. Sold by druggists, at fifty cents. Manufactured by WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

DR. PIERCE'S PELLETS Purely Vegetable. Gently Laxative, or Cathartic, according to size of dose. By druggists. 25 cents a vial.

REDUCED PRICES —AT— CRESCENT DRUG STORES ON ALL GOODS.

It will pay practical people to read the following advertisement carefully:

The Crescent Drug Company were the originators in Newark of selling Drugs, Medicines, etc., at Reduced Prices.

Not so with other Druggists! There are a few conspicuous instances where other Druggists in Essex County sell Patent Medicines ALONE at Reduced Prices as LEADERS to tempt customers; but these Druggists are like the unwilling workman, who only does his task while under the vigilant eyes of an overseer. It is a forced exaction, not a voluntary tribute.

For instance—we sell regular $1.00 Patent Medicines at 75c., 70c. and some as low as 68c. One or two Newark Druggists single out our [illegible]c. Patent Medicine and offer it to their customers for 67c. Yet these same Druggists repeatedly (year after year) charged $1.00 for this same Patent Medicine until the Crescent Drug Company opened a Drug Store and from the beginning sold everything at Reduced Prices. Did these Druggists Reduce Prices on other Goods? No! They still continue to sell Drugs, Perfumery, Prescriptions, Soaps, Brushes, Sponges, Combs and other goods at the same old schedule of HIGH PRICES.

Reader, do you realize that when you pay your Druggist [illegible] per ounce for Borax, Alum, Soda, Flaxseed, Sulphur, Salts and for other Drugs, that you are paying at the rate of 8[illegible]c. per pound for these goods? We sell Borax at 12c. per pound; Alum, 8c. per pound; Bicarbonate of Soda at 8c per pound; Flaxseed, 10c. per pound, and everything else in same ratio. We do not cut Prices on a few Patent Medicines to lure you into our Store and then charge you High Prices for other Goods. Everything in the Crescent Drug Store is sold at Reduced Prices! If you have never traded with us, you must certainly have an acquaintance who has traded with us. Consult such acquaintance and obtain his or her opinion as to the advantage to be gained by trading with the Crescent Drug Company. We will be satisfied with the verdict.

We employ Four Pharmacists (men, not boys) in our Prescription Department. Prescriptions Compounded at One half the Price charged by other Druggists.

We have no Cigar Counter and no Soda Water Fountain to interfere with our legitimate Drug Business.

Our Drug Stores are closed all day on Sundays.

We have the Largest and Finest Stock of Sponges in New Jersey. Prices absolutely Lower than at Wholesalers.

Hair Brushes, Tooth Brushes and Nail Brushes. We carry a large assortment and sell at about One-half the Lowest New York City Prices.

Below we publish a Partial List of Goods with Prices. You can judge from this List how Low we sell everything in our Store:

A Few Words About Wines and Liquors.

We do not affect to call ourselves Liquor Dealers or Wine Merchants. We do not sell Wines and Champagnes by the Case. As conducting a thoroughly stocked Drug Store, we carry on [illegible] a complete line of Spirituous Liquors and Wines, as is usually so [illegible] public with the Purest Goods only. Druggists, [illegible], as a rule, bear a reputation of keeping in stock Liquors of poor grade and of charging for same exorbitantly high prices. [illegible] We desire to impress all consumers of our Wines with two facts:

1st.—That our Goods are exactly as we represent.

2d.—That we retail our Liquors, etc., on very close margin of profit and look upon the quality of the Goods as the best recommendation to consumers to purchase their Drugs, Toilet Articles, etc., in our store.

Invalids, aged people and others can rely implicitly upon the quality and therapeutical value of our goods.

Mr. Isaac Newton, an old resident of Bloomfield and the father of Mr. John Newton, of Franklin street, died on Saturday, September 20th, at his residence on Oakland avenue, aged 77 years. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon at his residence. The services were conducted by the Rev. George A. Paull, of the Westminster Presbyterian Church. Interment at the Bloomfield Cemetery.

The repairs made to Bloomfield avenue by the Road Board and those made to Broad street by the Road Committee, together with the macadamizing done on Washington avenue has greatly improved the condition of the streets at the Centre, with Montgomery and Franklin streets partly macadamized. It may be truthfully said that the First Ward has fared well at the hands of the present Committee.

The increase in the receipts of passenger business on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad are far in excess of last year. The month of August shows up especially large. The increase is largely due to the rapid building up of the Morris & Essex Division as a place of residence and the facts that the company is putting forth great efforts to secure through business between New York, Buffalo and the West.

Constitutional Amendments.

A LETTER FROM ASSEMBLYMAN JACKSON.

The special election on amending the Constitution of this State takes place next Tuesday.

Knowing that Mr. Edward W. Jackson, who represented the 10th Assembly district in the last session of the Legislature, was the only member of both branches of that body who opposed the resolution to submit the proposed constitutional amendments to the people, and thinking that a statement of his reasons for so doing would be of interest to his constituents, the editor of THE BLOOMFIELD CITIZEN wrote to Mr. Jackson requesting him to give some outline of his views on this subject, and received the following reply.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE CITIZEN:

Yours of September 23, requesting a statement of my reasons for opposing the proposed Constitutional Amendments, I received and in reply would say:

I think it a mistake to make any change in the present constitution. You will remember that prior to 1875 the constitution permitted the enactment of special legislation. It was found however that this system gave encouragement to the enactment of unnecessary and dangerous laws, so that in 1875 the constitution was amended and the section in question (Section 7 of Article 4), inserted for the express purpose of prohibiting the Legislature from passing private, local or special laws, regulating the internal affairs of towns and counties etc.

To strike out this section, as is proposed, simply means that any city, town, borough or other municipal corporation may obtain legislation applicable to it alone. I believe that the experience of this State under the system as it existed prior to 1875, furnishes a strong argument against a return to it. We had a mass of ill considered, hasty legislation which in many instances worked harm to the communities it was intended to benefit. As an illustration, my own town of Belleville had from 1868 to 1876, a period of eight years, four different forms of government which were the subject of expensive litigation.

It seems to me that the enactment of laws to apply locally or privately has the effect of shifting the responsibility from the Legislature as a body, to the individual member. Under such a system laws are passed solely through dicker and favoritism. A member from Sussex will naturally vote for a bill which applies only to a locality in Cape May County, if in so doing he can secure in return a vote for his bill. He knows that he is responsible to none but his own constituents. His only object is to secure the passage of his own bill; but to do this he must agree to vote for his fellow member's bill. This he does and who knows but that in casting this vote in return for past or in anticipation of future favors, he is aiding to force undesired and vicious legislation upon a district of which perhaps he has never heard. Is not such a system equivalent to being governed by strangers? I think so.

Laws should apply generally and the responsibility be placed on the Legislature where it belongs. Then good laws are obtained, because each member is anxious to prevent the enactment of such as are injurious. For these reasons I voted in the Legislature against the proposition to submit the proposed amendments to the people, and I sincerely trust that Article IV, Section VII, Clause 11 will not be amended.

I am respectfully yours,
EDWARD W. JACKSON.

State Firemen's Convention.

Chief Engineer Johnson, Frank G. Tower, William Rawson, and William Kronrich represented the Bloomfield Fire Department at the State Convention of the New Jersey Firemen's Relief Association in Trenton on Wednesday. The finances of the Association were under discussion. Hereafter the investment of the funds of the association will be governed by laws under which Savings Banks invest their funds. The salaries paid in local associations were fixed at 10 per cent of the collections, and delegate's expenses are limited to actual travelling and hotel expenses. Hon. Edward W. Jackson of Belleville was elected vice-president for this district, and Mr. F. G. Tower assistant corresponding secretary.

Watsessing W. C. T. U.

The Watsessing Woman's Christian Temperance Union held its annual meeting in Temperance Hall, corner of Dodd and Prospect streets. There was a good attendance and the business of the year was reviewed and pronounced satisfactory. Reports from the Loyal Legion showed that it was in a flourishing condition. The Department of Literature reported that it had done excellent work during the year. Over 42,000 pages of reading matter had been distributed. The Treasurer reported a balance of $4.15. The receipts had been $185.67, and expenditures, $181 52. Reports on the picnic in July were received, and the triple pledge was advocated. It was decided to celebrate the birthday of Mrs. Francis Willard, the National President of the Union, and preparations for the event were made. The society of the "Y's" among the young people was reported to be prosperous. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Mrs. Margaret Pierce; Vice-Presidents, Mrs. S. Hallenbeck, representing the Presbyterian denomination; Mrs. U., Seely, the Baptist, and Mrs. H. Andrews, the Methodist; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs William Carluck; Recording Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. R. T. Arrowsmith.

The First Step.

Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't think, can't do anything to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning, you are taking the first step into Nervous Prostration. You need a Nerve Tonic and in Electric Bitters you will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal, healthy condition. Surprising results follow the use of this great Nerve Tonic and Alterative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored, and the Liver and Kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. Price 50c. at Geo. M. Wood's Drug Store.

The G. A. R. Festival.

The chilly dampness of the weather doubtless deterred a great many from attending the Camp Fire and entertainment of William S. Pierson Post last Monday. The weather had been threatening rain all day. If the picnic had been held earlier in the season there is no doubt but it would have proved a great success, for Glenwood Park is a splendid place for conducting an affair of the kind.

Outside of the members of the post, very few were present in the afternoon. In the evening the attendance was very good.

Comrades Batchellor and Gregory did a good trade at the camp fire disposing of roast oysters and sandwiches. Comrade Hayter managed a very successful sleight of hand performance on the pavilion stage. The Frank Brothers furnished the music for dancing, and Marshall & Bail's Punch and Judy show furnished entertainment for the children. Socially the affair was a success.

A Home Wedding.

The home of Mr. William F. Haviland, 207 Broad street, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on last Wednesday evening. The occasion was the marriage of his youngest daughter, Nellie, to Mr. Stanton Bullock.

The house, which was tastefully trimmed with flowers and smilax, was well filled with guests, a large number of whom were from out of town. At a few minutes past seven the bridal party entered the parlor, preceded by the Rev. Mr. Mulford. Miss Haviland wore a heavy white silk gown entrain, trimmed with orange blossoms. The marriage service was that of the Episcopal Church.

After the newly wedded couple had received the congratulations and the best wishes of all their friends, sets were made up and dancing was participated in by the younger guests for the remainder of the evening. At 8.30 the company enjoyed a delightful supper furnished by Allen.

Miss Haviland received many beautiful presents, among which was a diamond bracelet from the groom, a clock from his friends at the Fifth Avenue Bank, a number of handsome chairs, some dainty pieces of bric-a-brac and decorated china.

Mr. and Mrs. Bullock expect to be absent about two weeks on their wedding tour.

The farmers in Brookdale who have made a practice of stacking the fertilizer used on their farms along the roadside, have been notified by Inspector Corby that they must stop it. Residents of that locality complained to the Inspector about it. The Inspector also abated a nuisance on Washington street during the past week. The refuse from a butcher shop had been dumped on a vacant lot there.

Mr. Adam Metz, for many years a well known hotel keeper in this town, died on Wednesday after a severe illness of several weeks' duration. Mr. Metz was in the 51st year of his age and had been a resident of Bloomfield about 30 years. The funeral services will take place on Sunday afternoon at 1 30. He was a member of the following societies: Eureka Lodge Knights of Pythias, K. W. V.
